About This Game

In Unreal Estate, the City Council has hired you to build the best cityscape, which you'll do by drafting buildings to your hand. Rejected designs go to the Scrap Pile, but as demand for those buildings grows, you can reclaim them to score the most points. But be careful that the other architects don't score them before you!

So the point to the game is simple, you collect cards based on the point value on the card, and when you have cards that match some of the cards in the scrap pile, you can score. The scrap pile cards act as multipliers so the more of them that are there, the better. We add in 9 different special cards but only a few at a time, so each game plays a little bit different.

Play this game against AI of three different skill levels in 2, 3, or 4 player action or play our cross platform multi player games

Scoring example: Corinne has 2 Magic Items Shop cards in her hand each with a value of 4 ( $2 \times 4 = 8$ ). There are 3 Magic Items Shop cards in the Scrap Pile. So,  $8 \times 3 = 24$  points scored.

Corinne's Hand
( $2 \times 4 = 8$ )

Scrap Pile
( $8 \times 3 = 24$ )

Once all players have taken a turn, any leftover cards on the Proposal Board are moved to the Scrap Pile. This completes the round. Do not move any remaining Special Building cards to the Scrap Pile. Instead, place them in the Discard. At the start of each round, refill the Proposal Board and pass the First Player marker one player to the left. That player will begin the next round.

NOTE: In a 2-player game, the players take 2 alternating actions per round from the 3 options above, then clear the remaining card(s) to the Scrap Pile.

GAME END & WINNING

When, at the beginning of a round, there are no cards in the Draw Deck to place on the Proposal Board, each player takes one more turn scoring (if possible). This ends the game. The winner is the player who scored the most points and is given the Key to Guildmore. In the event of a tie, the player with the most cards in hand is the winner. In the event of a further tie, the player with the highest total points in their hand is the winner.

I'm not especially impressed with either the game itself or the computer adaptation. The game requires a lot of memorization to play well, and the gameplay is too straightforward if you can memorize your opponents' cards. As for the adaptation, the interface is a bit of a mess. It's a little difficult to understand how turns work in a two-player game, for example ("Does my opponent get to take another turn before these cards are discarded?" should not be a difficult question to answer). Some of the graphics are blurry, too.

I got this at half price. I don't dislike it enough to refund it, but I doubt I'll be playing it much.
